

CBGA Robson LLP and COVID-19

We are carefully monitoring the ongoing developments related to COVID-19.

Our priority is the health and well-being of our people and our clients, whilst ensuring we can continue to deliver our services to you.

As a proactive measure to ensure our business continuity, we have implemented remote working for our employees. We have the technology and training to allow us to operate remotely and therefore are confident that this will not interfere with our service to you. You can be rest assured that we will continue to be contactable via the normal channels.

We will continue to monitor the situation closely and will provide you with updates as appropriate.
